Our Mission — to offer our guests healthy and natural food: It was with this claim that the first BLOCK HOUSE opened in Hamburg in 1968. A new and basic restaurant that delights guests at oak tables with fabric sets and makes eating out possible for everyone at any time of day.

Our own butchery is a master craft business — with experienced meat specialists who have been providing the best, tender and juicy steaks since 1973. It starts with the purchasing, then maturation, the fine cutting and the precise portioning. Our experts are permanently based in South America, where Hereford and Angus cattle graze day in, day out on green pastures. In Mecklenburg-Western Pomerania, we run our BLOCK HOUSE cattle breeding programme in close cooperation with our partner farmers. They raise Uckermärker and Angus cattle for us, which are reared under optimal animal welfare conditions.

Our cuisine — a healthy feast begins with a fresh salad before the steak. Once you order, your dish will be freshly prepared, portion by portion. We are quick, practical and clean, to ensure perfect preparation using our commercial kitchen technology. This is how our popular recipes achieve their delicious taste.

50 years of expansion — over 50 restaurants have been opened since 1968. Every BLOCK HOUSE is more beautiful than the last, but they all have the same, cosy hospitality, comfortable seating and a friendly welcome. With attention to detail, we create an attractive environment and a practical workplace for our employees.

BLOCK HOUSE keeps the animals in a species-appropriate manner on healthy pastures with permanently grassy areas to guarantee environmentally friendly cattle rearing. Our butchery has earned a reputation across the country for its consistent quality and is subject to strict monitoring by the veterinary authorities. Today it is a master craft business with 200 employees on a 3.000 sq m site, split into three units: cutting, portioning and burger production.

Research is priority in our Block Menu production kitchen, because it ensures the perfect preparation of our healthy recipes. So, it's no surprise that we supply numerous customers in the gastronomy and hospitality sector and retailers. We are leaders in the industry with our hygienic, clean technology.

Our Block Head College has been training all our employees for 25 years, and practical knowledge is shared every day in our various companies. We extend our grateful thanks to our many long-standing employees.

The family company continues to grow. My children are expert partners and professional restaurateurs. Company leadership is governed with a broad-based management. It ensures flexible and family-friendly working hours.

Joie de vivre and pleasure — every visit to a BLOCK HOUSE should be a joy with the best food and a friendly, welcoming interaction.

“Going out to eat should be enjoyable and affordable”

Life motto of:

Angen Bloch
